1) As a Specific Benefit Corporation, our work from January 2025 through December 2025 centered around our purpose: to encourage and generate effective partnerships between the public health and creative sectors.

   i. The ways in which the corporation pursued and created the specific benefit stated in our articles:

   - Reflected upon the need/viability for the Center for Creativity & Public Health
   - Connected with professionals in the public health and creative sectors to learn about their priorities and needs
   - Maintained our website and podcast platform for connecting and sharing stories
   - Worked with a public library to design public engagement events
   - Considered priorities to keep cross sector partnerships active via virtual, live, and hybrid convenings

   ii. The extent to which that specific public benefit purpose was pursued and created:

   - With a Leadership Circle of five individuals and a database which has grown to nearly a thousand individuals, we are staying in contact with professionals & pre-professionals in the arts & public health sectors. We are a low budget corporation at this stage with growth potential in service to our purpose.
   - We continue to consider opportunities with professionalism and clarity.
   - Our outreach to a growing network is among our highest priorities.
   - Future-focused on the development of internship programs, mentorship, leadership development, and providing consulting services at the intersection of the creativity/arts & public health/community.

   iii. Any circumstances that hindered efforts to pursue or create the specific benefit:

   - Two of our five Leadership Circle members became sudden family caregivers in 2024 (a father's progression with Parkinson's Disease and a spouse with a serious stroke), which slowed down programming a great deal.

2) Certification that our board of directors has reviewed and approved this report:

I certify that our board of directors and reviewed and approved this report.
